James Ching

Established in 1938 by James Ching (1900-1961), concert pianist, teacher and author of books on piano technique, the Service provides support for teachers and students including:

The Service

- 1. Background Notes
Notes on composers, historical periods and musical genres cover a wide range of topics
- 2. Lesson Plans
Detailed Lesson Plans on specific topics including suggested pupil exercises.
- 3. Questions
Sets of A-level style questions on specific topics.
- 4. Students' Study Pack
A study pack for Chinese music is offered, including pupils' worksheets and a tape.
- 5. Analysis
Analysis of specific pieces comes in two parts.
A copy of the score is marked in pencil. (Either you can supply a copy of the score or we will provide it for you.)
A set of descriptive notes describing the piece, usually with a reading list and a set of specimen questions. These notes can be purchased separately where priced. (The separate notes may not provide a detailed musical analysis.)

Copyright

Copyright is waived so that you can make multiple copies of notes for use in your establishment only. We cannot send goods on approval but please ask for a sample page.

Ordering

- 1. Orders can be placed by phone, fax or post. Your Invoice and Confirmation of Order will reach you by return. If you order an analysis, the Confirmation will tell you where to send your score for marking.
- 2. Please state the JCPS catalogue number together with the description of the goods required.
- 3. Make it clear on the order if you are providing a score for analysis, otherwise you may be charged for a new score.
- 4. For non-copyright music, a photocopy of the score is acceptable.
- 5. When you send your score to be marked, please mark it with the school name.
- 6. If you wish us to purchase a score on your behalf, the score will be charged at cost plus a handling charge of £2.50.
- 7. Do not hesitate to phone if the instructions are not clear. You may fax your order but if Confirmation of Order is not received by return, please check that the fax has been received.

Analyses

Please note that Column titled 'Full' gives total cost for marking score and supplying accompanying notes.

In some cases background notes, ideas about the music, questions and reading list, can be purchased separately.

The column titled 'Notes' gives the cost of these notes only. Notes on their own do not give a full analysis; score-marking gives additional information. Scores can also be supplied at cost.
